

fact, I'm pretty sure that they do not, but the potential is there for this association and all associations. You can charge a fee that is free or no fee at all for a member of your association and you can charge any fee that you wish for a person who is not a member of your organization and that fee could be higher than the dues to belong to the association to make it economically, not only justifiable, but economically necessary to be a member of an organization whether it be the embalmers or the realtors or the builders or insurance people or barbers, cosmetologists, whatever it is, that fee could be so high if you're not a member that you have to join and all of a sudden you've got a very, very strong organization that has control over you by a law that we put in the statute with only one goal, to protect the public good. That's a very real potential and I've seen it happen and I want to indicate one more time that probably the main reason for education, continuing education, is because of the changing state of the art and there isn't a single art that I can think of, or profession, that changes more rapidly than medicine and we have no continuing educations for that. Law, we have no continuing education for that because they already have strong holds on their members because they have their own associations. They don't need continuing education. You don't find them down here asking for continuing education because they've already got the holds they need.

SPEAKER NICHOL: Half a minute.

SENATOR HANNIBAL: I am going to support the bill. I think it is a practical reality that we must, but I wanted you to know my feelings about continuing education, not just here, but in all the boards that we are having come up for sunset review.

SPEAKER NICHOL: The question is the advancement of the bill. All those in favor vote aye, opposed nay. Have you all voted? Record, Mr. Clerk.

ASSISTANT CLERK: 33 ayes, 1 nay, Mr. President.

SPEAKER NICHOL: LB 101 advances. LB 345. Incidentally, it is time for Senator Beutler's meeting under the south balcony for the Reference Committee. It's over with? Senator Beutler, am I mistaken or...
